More Persons Join in Christmas Observance This Dec. 26th Than Ever Before

MAY we take this means of wishing the readers of this column a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year? While we would like very much to meet each one personally and express to you this wish, inasmuch as it is not possible to accomplish this we will pass the thought on through this column.

THE citizens of this section of the country have many reasons for being happy at this season of the year, for 1923 has been a very prosperous year to all but a very few of them. The business interests have never enjoyed as prosperous a year, and this prosperity is being radiated on all sides. What is true of this section is true, though in a lesser degree, all over America.

CHRISTMAS day this year will be celebrated by more persons than ever before. This is due to the fact that for the first time in 350 years almost all of Christendom will celebrate December 25th as Christmas day. This is accounted for by the fact that 125,000,000 of persons connected with the eastern Orthodox national churches, of which Greece and Russia are chief centers, will join in the occasion with the others of the Christian world.

UNTIL this year members of these churches have followed the Julian calendar, which causes a gap of fourteen days between the Christmas as observed in eastern and western churches. Now the Gregorian calendar has been adopted by all.

THE MANNER of observing the Christmas of today differs considerably from that followed in the past years. In former times the day seemed to be mostly for persons to have home celebrations, the participants being mainly of the same family.

TODAY the thought is more of a community nature, the giving of gifts to the needy and instilling the thought in the youth of the land that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

WITH THIS THOUGHT uppermost all the churches and many communities will observe the day by the bringing of gifts to be later on given to those in need.

THERE ought to be no possibility that any one in America should be neglected, especially at Christmas, for the majority have enjoyed so much prosperity that they should be glad to pass some of it along to those not so fortunate as themselves.

STRANGE TALES ARE RELATED OF BERLIN EXCHANGE

[By Associated Press] NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The sharp depreciation in Berlin exchange to the point where one cent in American money will buy several billion German marks has given rise to several fanciful stories in Wall street, and to many interesting mathematical calculations.

One of the latest stories, credited to an American consular officer in Belgium, relates how shortly after the armistice the Belgian government, in an apparent effort to acquire sufficient marks to influence, if necessary, the German exchange situation, decided to redeem all the German currency then circulating in Belgium. It is said to have expected to acquire six billion marks in this manner, but the favorable rate of exchange offered induced considerable speculation in Germany who purchased at a profit in their own country, so that several more billions were actually acquired.

These marks are said to have been stored in a large warehouse and a guard placed over them, necessitating an annual outlay of 60,000 to 80,000 German francs, besides the loss of interest. So great has been the depreciation in marks that the Belgian "treasure," which is said still to be under guard, is valued at less than $1 in American money at the present rate of exchange.

BLOODY HERRIN, ILL., IN BOOTLEGGERS RAID

Truck Smashed When Hit By P. E. Train; Driver Escapes Unhurt

INSTANT DEATH ESCAPED BY MIRACLE

Thomas Retallick's Auto Smashed by P. E. Train But He is Unhurt

A miraculous escape from death or serious injury was experienced this morning by a Glendale citizen who will have additional cause to celebrate Christmas. Thomas Retallick of 546 Salem street was driving a light delivery truck east-bound on Cerritos avenue, South Glendale, about 8 o'clock, at the same time that a southbound three-car train reached the crossing.

The impact hurled Mr. Retallick from the driver's seat and he tumbled to the ground, outside of danger and unhurt. The automobile was dragged southward fifteen or twenty feet and badly damaged. The left side of the machine was caved in, the windshield was broken, its steering wheel was twisted and several wheels were broken. A "Private Right of Way" sign was broken by the assault of the automobile—illustrating the irony of circumstances. Although badly shaken up and somewhat nervous, Mr. Retallick, who is a cement contractor, was able to pick himself up and gather up his tools, which were scattered all over the intersection. Delay was caused to several Los Angeles bound trains because of the collision.

Only minor automobile collisions were reported over the week-end to the police department.

Colorado street and Brand boulevard at 7:10 p. m. yesterday was the scene of a collision between automobiles driven by William Cronin of 401 Milford street and Jeff Lazarus of Los Angeles.

"The driver of the other car, coming north on Brand, did not use brakes soon enough and hit my car in the rear," reported Mr. Cronin.

John H. Bailey of 215 North Kenilworth avenue about 3 o'clock yesterday was passing along Fairmont avenue, Annandale, Miss Florence Atkins of 1517 Fairmont avenue was learning to drive and backed over the curb and into his machine. Damage was slight.

Charles V. Story of 314 Pioneer drive had one of the fenders on his machine dented about 4:30 p. m. yesterday in a collision at Brand boulevard and Broadway.

"We are staying right on top of the world," reports George Hallett, assistant postmaster of Glendale, commenting upon the Christmas rush.

"The mail this year has been running two and three times as heavy as last year," he asserted. "We have been cleaning it up right straight along. Of course, tomorrow, as previously announced, delivery will stop at noon. So we will probably have some mail left over Wednesday morning."

Distribution of parcel post from the boys' gymnasium at the high school is in charge of W. W. Hunt, who believes that the system could not be surpassed for efficiency. Under his direction are eight clerks, twelve delivery trucks and about twenty-two substitutes for Santa Claus.

Outgoing mail, which is about double last year's, is being handled by twenty-nine clerks at the main postoffice and its substations. Altogether twenty-one clerks and twenty carriers are being employed as substitutes. About twenty-five substitutes were employed last year.

Regular mail is being handled by the 39 carriers of the postal force. These reported at 6 this morning and will check in at the same hour tomorrow and Wednesday. Some of them have been working twelve and thirteen hours a day. They hope to have all Christmas mail received tomorrow delivered before Wednesday night.

MAN CHARGED WITH SLAPPING TINY BABY'S FACE

Uncontrolled anger Saturday night caused C. Courrier of 423 North Jackson street, Glendale, to slap his six months old baby's face until it was black and blue, it is charged. He is said to have become incensed over the infant's cries.

The case was investigated yesterday by Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police, and Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer. They found the baby's face still bruised.

W. H. Holland, chief probation officer of the juvenile court, is being asked to commence prosecution.

NEW ELECTRIC LINE TO L. A. IS HAILED BY EAGLE ROCK

Many people in Eagle Rock are rather up in the air as to just what the new Glendale to Eagle Rock line is going to do. In an interview by the Eagle Rock scribe of the Daily Press with Mr. P. L. Hatch, who is the general manager, the statement was made that service on the Glendale-Los Angeles line will not start for several days yet. This is due to the fact that although they have been running the work along as fast as possible, the tracks could not be properly equipped and lowered before Jan. 1. The Eagle Rock line will connect with the Union Pacific-Los Angeles line at Wilson and Glendale avenue, in Glendale. A thirty minute service will be in operation except during the rush hours, when a 20 minute service will be on. This is an advantage to those who live in the west end of Eagle Rock, and 30 ride books will be sold.

We believe that this is a benefit to a certain extent to the Eagle Rock residents, and wish the Glendale local car company success. There is one thing we usually can depend upon, and that is fairly good service to Glendale. This is not based on any particular friendship with the car people either. It is supported by facts. Having seen the first time that the cars ever ran to Glendale and Eagle Rock, when they were owned by the Goods family, and still using them right along, we think that the L. A. Ry. could learn a little about better schedules and a place to park one's feet.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS OFF TO SAN DIEGO EARLY WEDNESDAY

Leaving Glendale at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning with automobiles decorated with Glendale banners, a group of Glendale Y. M. C. A. boys will go on an educational trip to San Diego, where a royal time is being planned for them. The San Diego Y. M. C. A. will act as host and has arranged for a guide to take the Glendale boys through Balboa Park, where they will spend the entire day on Thursday visiting the park, zoo, museums and buildings there. They have also arranged for a visit at the submarine and navy base and at the aviation field.

The boys who will go on this trip include Myron Cole, Gilbert Groutage, Robert Kelley, Robert Boyd, Walter Roberts, Fred Houghton, Dick Kelley, Harold Boyd, Robert Hemphill, Robert Finlay, Kilton Allison, Harold Loving, Robert Beavins, Edward Collins, Norman Axup, Willard Ball and Jack Swearingin. They will be accompanied by Rex C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, W. G. Boyd, C. W. Ingledue, Fred Illingworth and Frank Hillis. The party will return to Glendale on Saturday afternoon.

Intoxication caused the arrest of Eli Carpenter of 130 North Maryland avenue, Glendale, about 9:15 Saturday night. He spent the week end in the "municipal hotel."

THE WEATHER

Just Off the Wire From Here and There

[By Associated Press] ST. LOUIS, Dec. 24.—Associate Magistrate Heath Jackson of Winnipeg, who also is a major in the ninetieth foot regiment of Canada, was arrested here today on telegraphic advices from Winnipeg, which stated he was wanted to answer a charge of embezzling $3,415. He was traced to St. Louis, police said, through a letter he wrote Winnipeg officials under a different name, extolling Jackson as an upright man, and suggesting the embezzlement charge be dropped.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Prohibition officials announced they had uncovered one of the greatest running conspiracies since prohibition went into effect when they arrested Robert Graham, an Englishman and five others on a 30-ton motorboat off Fire Island. Graham had $46,558 in his possession and lists of names of suspected bootleggers all over the country.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 24.—C. W. Allender, president of the First National bank, today applied for a warrant for F. Mayhew, alias E. B. Hatfield, alias William F. Walker, said to be under arrest in Los Angeles and wanted on a charge of swindling nine Kansas City banks at about $25,000 in a forgery of certified checks last July.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Gold coins will be left by Santa Claus in great number of Christmas stockings this year than ever before.

The total gold held by the federal reserve bank has decreased by more than $62,000,000 in the last ten days, while the gold settlement fund operated by the federal reserve board has decreased about $43,000,000, showing that an unusual drain has been made on the stocks by those who desire to employ the coin as Christmas gifts.

PARIS, Dec. 24.—A man named L. Rappell, who said Thomas Lee Woolwine, former district attorney of Los Angeles, had sent him to prison, called at the hotel here where Mr. Woolwine is ill and offered to give a pint of blood to the man who once prosecuted him. Rappell's offer, however, was not accepted as the doctors already had decided to take blood from the little hotel maid who attends the Woolwine family. She was one of several volunteers.

MASTER FORGER OF NATION HAS BEEN CAPTURED

[By Associated Press] LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—Fred Mayer, alias E. B. Hatfield, alias William F. Walker, arrested here today on charges of swindling Kansas City banks out of $27,000, confessed to nation-wide forgeries that have netted him more than $100,000 and mulcted more than a score of banks in upward of a dozen different cities, according to the authorities.

Banks in Kansas City, New Orleans, Chicago, Brooklyn, Boston, St. Paul, Buffalo and other cities all paid toll to this alleged master forger, the police said. All his proceeds, he asserted, have been lost in stock speculations.

The list of his operations in recent years, as given out by the officers who questioned him, include the following: 1918 and 1919—St. Paul, where he worked under the name of F. Winter and obtained $2,000. 1919—Chicago, obtained $8,000 from five or six banks, the names of which he has forgotten.

1920—New Orleans, obtained $5,000 from the Marine Trust bank and three other financial institutions. 1920 and 1921—Brooklyn, operated under the name of Fred Mayer and obtained upwards of $5,000 from four banks.

1921—Boston, obtained $14,000 from the Shawmut bank, the New England Trust company and the Boston National bank. 1922—Buffalo, operated under the name of M. B. Lemoyne and obtained $9,000 from the La Fayette bank and five others.

1923—Kansas City, obtained $27,000 from the First Trust company and the First National bank. Mayer was arrested when he was recognized on the street here by Oscar Sitterle, formerly a bank employee in Kansas City and other cities in the east and middle west.

FOURTH TIME IN PAST FOUR MONTHS

Calla Lily Creamery Co. Manager Was Target Again for Robbers

Another attempt was made yesterday to obtain the week end receipts of the Calla Lily Creamery in Glendale.

While Mr. and Mrs. E. Paggi were absent from their home at 729 Porter street it was thoroughly ransacked and upset from one end to the other. They left about 2 p. m. and went to Van Nuys where they visited their ranch. They returned about 9 o'clock to find their home burglarized.

Diamond earrings belonging to Mrs. Paggi, which were purchased by Mr. Paggi as a Christmas present 15 years ago for $300, were stolen, as well as $30.85 in cash. The money included a twenty-dollar gold piece given by Mr. Paggi to his wife for a Christmas present, two one-dollar bills and $3.25 in small change in a purse and $5.60 in a trunk.

E. Paggi, who is the president and manager of the Calla Lily Creamery, believes that the burglary was another attempt to obtain the Sunday morning receipts of the business. He calls attention to the fact that this is the fourth time in the past four months that the premises have been molested.

The last time was Tuesday, November 27, when a daylight bandit boldly held up D. C. Kerns, driver, and E. H. Sanborn, bookkeeper, in the office at 725 Porter street and escaped with $300 in cash.

Steps are being taken to make certain that the burglar's next attempt will be disastrous. According to Mr. Paggi there is no "welcome" for him upon the door mat.

A small phonograph and some dishes were stolen last night from the home of A. D. Johnston at 1461 Opechee way, according to a report this morning to the police department.

BURBANK PERMITS SHOULD REACH TWO MILLION

Building Inspector Wm. Coryell of Burbank has predicted that a total of over two million dollars for building permits for the year 1923 will be reached by the close of the month. As the report now stands, it needs about $65,000 to make up the two millions and Mr. Coryell states that he is certain of getting that this week. Permits issued for Saturday are as follows:

J. H. Barnum, Goodrich Heights, 6 rooms and garage, $6,000; Thos. W. Callaway, Lincoln Gardens, 4 rooms, $2,000; Geo. W. Lewis, 4th and Alameda, addition, $75; Associated Oil Co., Front street, addition, $950; A. C. Manning, Magnolia Park, 3 rooms, $500; E. L. White, Service Station, $2,500; W. L. Edwards, 907 Providence avenue, 5 rooms and garage, $4,750; Wilbur D. Smith, 164 Valencia, garage, $200.

TWO AUTOS STOLEN IN GLENDAL AND ONE ABANDONED

The theft of two automobiles and the abandonment of a third was reported over the week end to the Glendale police department.

A Chevrolet coupe was found abandoned in the hills yesterday afternoon by D. J. Hall of Los Angeles. The name of O. H. Wade of 140 North Central avenue was on the operators license.

Dan Eller of 205 North Glendale avenue Saturday night had his 1916 Ford roadster stolen from in front of his home. It had just received a Christmas coat. The rear compartment contained several bottles of paint.

J. A. Boge of 1944 Glenwood road last night had his 1919 Chalmers stolen from in front of the Presbyterian church. It bore license number 508-271 and had a taggess carrier on the left running board.

CALL IT TURKEY AND 'Twill TASTE JUST AS GOOD

A twenty-six pound maleagris gallopavo was brought back by Fred Nicolaus of 455 Salem street, Glendale, yesterday from Imperial Valley.

"This is the largest turkey I have ever seen," he remarked this morning. "It took three people to lasso it."

The aforesaid "buzzard" will be the guest of honor tomorrow at 357 West Doran street in the home of Mrs. H. Nicolaus.

Mrs. Nicolaus resumed his duties in the municipal building department this morning after a week's vacation.

RELIEF WORKERS TOLD CONDITIONS IN DEUTCHLAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—General Henry T. Allen, chairman of the American committee for relief of German children made public today a cablegram from the Berlin headquarters of the American Society of Friends (Quakers) in answer to his inquiry as to what relief work was being done by native organizations and agencies in Germany.

Mr. McMaster cabled as follows: "Native relief for suffering people is very active. The German government has provided funds out of receipts from taxes on large incomes to feed 500,000 children daily, which even though inadequate indicates a disposition to help in so far as limited resources will permit. On an average the municipal governments are supplying about 50 per cent of suffering people with food and money."

"Agricultural district save caring for city dwellers on large scale. They are forwarding 40,200 tons of food monthly, an amount sufficient for feeding 1,225,000 children. Arrangements have been completed for sending 350,000 children to live with families in the country for five months. In Gelsenkirchen persons who have work are paying more than $100,000 a month toward the support of the unemployed."

"Many industrial concerns are supporting German students. Factories contribute fixed sums monthly for this purpose. After having been first to start the work in his district Stines guaranteed certain percentage of earnings. The banks are giving one hundred fifty dollars a month and the textile industry is contributing generously to student relief."

"Two million children were found to be badly undernourished in June. Today the figure approaches three millions. It must also be remembered that this is the ninth year of hard times for German children. The country is meant insufficient warmth and clothing. We must keep in mind further that the parents of at least two and one-half million of these children are now depending on an unemployment dole of less than 20 cents per day and that an additional two and one-half million persons are working half time or less in Germany today."

"Physicians and school doctors representing all Germany who met here recently to discuss situation disclosed the following facts: First, that infant mortality had increased 21 per cent during the last three months over that of the same period in 1922; second, that tuberculosis increased 16 per cent in the first nine months of this year over last year and third, that births have decreased ten per cent."

"Representatives of all German welfare organizations including Catholic, Protestant, Jewish and others in conference here reported that hundreds of thousands of children are being sent to school without breakfast and that the number of children too weak to attend school at all was increasing with great rapidity."

BANK PRESIDENT'S NECK BROKEN IN AUTO CRASH

[By Associated Press] WOODLAND, Calif., Dec. 24.—L. P. Behrens, bank president of Redwood City, who was injured in an automobile accident north of Willows last Saturday, died at a hospital. His neck was broken in the accident, which occurred when the coupe Behrens was driving failed to take a curve and turned turtle. Mrs. Behrens and son, Louis, were also injured and are being attended in a local hospital. Their condition is not serious.

BLOOD STAINED HERRIN, ILL., IN LIQUOR RAID

Men of All Nationalities Sworn in as Deputies; None Flinch

MARION, Ill., Dec. 24.—Four men were shot, one seriously, in a roundup of alleged moonshiners and bootleggers in Williamson county Saturday night and yesterday. Thirteen persons were held in the Franklin county jail at Benton and 62 were at liberty on bonds ranging from $2000 to $5000. All were charged with violating the federal prohibition law. The volunteer raiders were led by C. J. Simons of Washington, D. C., who was sent here by Prohibition Director Haynes.

Otis Clark, the first man indicted in connection with the Hermin mine killings, was among those arrested. The raiders swooped down on all nearby towns almost simultaneously and early yesterday there was great excitement in Benton, it being estimated that more than 3000 persons were gathered in the town square.

While the reports make no mention of the active co-operation of Williamson county officials in the roundup, it is claimed that Sheriff Owens of Franklin county, adjoining, gave every possible help to the federal officers. Many of the volunteer force of 450 citizens were union miners of Williamson county, who were deputized after the federal officers had called for men "prepared to die in this undertaking."

Knights of Columbus and members of other organizations as well as clansmen participated. They did not participate as an organization and was not officially recognized. There were two to five revolvers and two or three automatic shotguns in each of the fifty-six places raided. A battle at Freeman lasted an hour and a half, and there were 100 shots fired out of Joe Toller's place alone.

Fifty-six separate raids were made and seven towns occupied. One of the worst places raided was Slaughter House Joint, near Ray Hancock and Allen Webb, near Herrin. Four places at mines 8 and 9, where the mob was assembled before the Herrin slayings, were raided also. Officers began making arrests Friday night.

"You should have seen those volunteer deputies stride forward Friday evening at the meeting when we called for men who were not afraid to die," said the officer in charge. "Not a man lagged; the whole 450 assembled there, representing all creeds and nationalities stepped forward. There were farmers, business men and miners. Then I said, 'Some of you may be sent home to your wives as a Christmas present in a box. Are you ready?'"

"Were they? When we administered the oath they sung out, 'Jo', in chorus, every last man answering with a look in his eye and a ring in his voice that meant business."

EAGLE ROCK WILL HOLD CELEBRATION ON FRIDAY, DEC. 28

Highland Park folk have nothing on Eagle Rock. They had a fine Christmas celebration Saturday night at the Arroyo Seco playground, but when they see Eagle Rock's they will forget about their own. By tonight the big tree, which is being furnished by the playground commission, will be placed on the lawn at the southwest corner of the city hall. All bedecked with the scintillating gleams of hundreds of decorations it is expected to bring forth the delight of all who see it: With all the old Christmas songs that all have known from their earliest childhood being sung and special anthems by the combined choirs, orchestra numbers and a number of duets being played, a wonderful time will be had by all. The whole town will be present Friday evening, December 28, at 8 o'clock.

Glendale's Sewer EXPERT INFORMATION FURNISHED DAILY ON THIS GREAT PROJECT

(In this column will appear from day to day, comments on the sewer project, which is the biggest thing that has ever confronted the citizens of Glendale, also articles prepared by the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce which may be considered as expert information.)

IS GLENDAL PAYING TOO MUCH?

The point has been raised that Glendale is paying too much for its sewer connection to the Los Angeles sewer system.

According to the agreement between Glendale and Los Angeles, Glendale is required to construct a section of sewer extending from Aviation Drive near San Fernando road, to Sixth and Utah streets. This section of sewer is a part of a complete sewer that will eventually extend from Oranmough in the San Fernando valley to Hyperion on the Pacific coast, following in general the course of the Los Angeles river to Slauson avenue; thence west on Slauson to Arlington avenue; thence to Hyperion over the route of the Los Angeles north outfall sewer. This complete line will be between fifty and fifty-five miles long. Glendale has agreed to build a ten-mile section of this sewer at a cost of approximately $1,250,000; or $125,000 per mile.

Now let us consider what Los Angeles is doing and is bound to do by virtue of this agreement. Los Angeles is constructing the North Outfall sewer from Hyperion to Arlington and Slauson avenues. This section of sewer is fifteen miles long and will cost approximately $1,250,000. CAPACITY is provided in this sewer for all Los Angeles, GLENDAL and the rest of the San Fernando valley.

By virtue of the agreement between Los Angeles and Glendale, Los Angeles agrees to build the East Los Angeles intercepting main from Arlington and Slauson avenues, the end of the North Outfall sewer, to Sixth and Utah streets, the end of the section of the sewer to be built by Glendale. Main will be ten miles long and will provide CAPACITY for a part of Los Angeles, GLENDAL and the rest of the San Fernando valley.

Briefly then in TERMS OF SERVICE, Glendale agrees to carry its own sewage together with that contributed by the San Fernando valley and a small part of Los Angeles, for a distance of ten miles. Los Angeles in return agrees to carry all of this sewage which INCLUDES THE SEWAGE OF GLENDAL, for a distance of twenty-five miles and dispose of it in the Pacific ocean. The question then becomes: "Is Glendale Paying Too Much for this Service?"

To answer this question let us determine what it would cost Glendale to provide this service without the cooperation of Los Angeles. It would be necessary for Glendale to construct a line from some point near Aviation Drive and San Fernando road to the Pacific ocean. The shortest possible gravity route for this line would be approximately thirty miles. A line averaging thirty inches in internal diameter would be required 10, in chorus, every last man answering with a look in his eye and a ring in his voice that meant business."

MONTROSE CITIZEN IS KILLED BY AUTO SUNDAY

Lawrence T. Brown of 420 Briggs avenue, Montrose, father of Ira E. Brown of 405 Porter street, Glendale, was killed on the Ventura highway near Glendale on Sunday morning about 11:30 o'clock at the age of 76 years. Mr. Brown was struck by another automobile as he stepped from the machine in which he was riding to recover his hat, which had been blown from his head by a gust of wind. Mr. Brown also leaves a daughter, Miss Brown, and another son who resides in Omaha. Inquest over the body will be held at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the parlors of L. G. EAGLE ROCK NOTES

Erle Byer, who is with the Southern California Edison substation in Eagle Rock, is leaving for a week's vacation Thursday. His trip will take him to Watsonville, where some of his relatives are located.

A little "Snowball" has been lost. He is a white Spitz, and his license number is 95. When hard pressed, he fights. A little girl of Eagle Rock wants him back—so badly. Everywhere she went, this little fellow followed at her heels. But now he is gone. Would the police officers help to find him? They will, and ask anyone who sees a dog answering this description to let them know.

The president of the Buchanan street Parent-Teacher association wishes that all members of the executive board be present at the school, Wednesday, 1 o'clock sharp, for an executive board meeting.

The Occidental-York Boulevard Improvement association will not hold a meeting until January 14, according to Mrs. Harrie Collins, president. At that time, however, considerable business will be brought forward.

The Women's Twentieth Century club reports that the food sale Saturday was a splendid success in every way. Considerable money was obtained from the sales, and those who managed them deserve commendation.

Mr. Kilty and wife of 5055 Eagle Rock boulevard, will spend Christmas Day with his sister, Mrs. Cullyford of 729 South Harvard street, Los Angeles.

Miss Virginia Holbrook of Santa Barbara is spending Christmas with Mrs. W. Holland, at her home, which is at the corner of Canyon trail and Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Braach spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilkes of Los Angeles. Their home is at the corner of Western and Ferndale, near Hollywood. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes are recently from Indianapolis.

Mrs. L. Mulchof of Santa Monica is spending Christmas with Mrs. Braach of 5342 Canyon trail.

After having it rebacked with a new canvas in Paris, Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, brought it to Baltimore, Md., in 1825. He willed it to Admiral Rance of the United States navy, from whom Mr. Anderson purchased it 22 years ago.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS DISCUSSES REIGN OF THE MASTER

The Sunday morning lesson brought to the Men's Bible Study class of the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday by Rev. Edward Hoskyn was based on the prophecies of Isaiah, "For unto you a child is born in the city of David. And his name shall be called Wonderful, and the government shall be upon his shoulders." Mr. Hoskyn said in part:

"This prophecy was indeed a special revelation from God to Isaiah, who was chosen by Jehovah because of the prophet's strong faith in God. The Hebrews clearly misinterpreted the promises of God to them and believed that the Messiah was to come again and reign in a material kingdom and give them the nations of the earth for an inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for their possessions. And had the Jews not broken faith with Jehovah it is very probable that this prophecy might have been fulfilled. They looked for the establishment on this earth of a material kingdom with the Christ on a material throne; but in this they were mistaken, for the kingdom of God is a spiritual one, and God now reigns in the hearts of men, and His kingdom is set up among us just as you and I are spiritual and have faith in the Christ as our Saviour.

"The whole scheme of salvation rests on our belief in the prophecies of the Old Testament. Isaiah was indeed a great prophet. But the prophetic visions did not commence with Isaiah. As far back as the creation, and in the Garden of Eden, was given the prophecy that 'the seed of woman shall bruise the serpent's head.' And this was true, as the whole world learned centuries ago. It was John the Baptist who said, 'Repent, for the kingdom of God is at hand.' He did not say that the kingdom of God was here, but that it was at hand. The Lord's prayer is greatly misunderstood by many who repeat it in a sanctified manner. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, a petition when properly interpreted.

"Christ's kingdom is to be a spiritual kingdom and the millennium would have been here long ago had the world accepted the teachings of the Christ when on earth, and the millennium will come only when the world does accept Him and follow in His footsteps. It was no part of the plan of salvation that men should be forced into obedience. 'Follow Me and I will give you rest,' were the words of the Master.

"The first great step toward winning the world for Christ must be a regeneration of men. Next we must have a social regeneration. Society as such must be reorganized along spiritual lines, and those things which lead to sensuality and debasement of manhood and womanhood must be replaced by the higher ideals of Jesus. Following this subject of regeneration attention must be given to the social regeneration in which greater justice must be done to those who toil for it is no part of the divine plan that the man who works the hardest should always have the least."

REV. EDMONDS ON THE SPLENDOR OF CHRISTMAS

The congregation of the Glendale Presbyterian church worshipped in the Glendale Theatre for the last time yesterday morning before the Christmas season. It is thought that now with such excellent ticketing facilities the people of Glendale will endeavor to keep every cent of Glendale traveling money at home, this resulting in more or less good to the community from time to time as improvements are in mind.

CHRISTMAS COMES ONLY FROM THE CHRIST CHILD AND IS NOT A MYTH. KRINGLE AND SANTA CLAUS ARE UNREAL AND MYTHICAL. WHY EMPHASIZE UNREALITY WHEN WE HAVE A GLORIOUS REALITY? A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD US, FOR MORE AND MORE THEY ARE ASKING, 'WHERE IS HE? FOR WE HAVE SEEN HIS STAR... AND ARE COME TO WORSHIP HIM.'

Surely it is a wonder we never weary of the light and glow and beauty of the Christmas season. What other story so ravishes the heart of childhood? What other story gives such raptures to the visions of age? The Christian Christmas message stands solitary, unique, unapproachable in human history. It is the Christians' day. It belongs to none other. Men cannot have Christmas without the Christ. It is the shame to smother Him with gifts of things and then shut the door in His face. There is no better time than now to let Him into the heart when the Christ spirit is everywhere present. Christmas is a poor, weak subterfuge except the spirit of Christ gets into the heart. "Where is He?" There is something in that question which is older than the sun and more ancient than the stars. It is an ageless question because it contains an ageless hope. It is still a fresh question on humanity's lips. While we and ours rejoice in Christmas splendor millions are wounded, sick, dying, tempted, tried, homeless and lonesome. "O that I knew where I might find Him."

Notice the word "born." A glow of Christian splendor, a halo of righteousness gathers round the head of motherhood. Sometimes we men in thinking of our mothers wonder why it is at such a time as this our thoughts flow out and on us we are lost in wonder, love and praise for the power of motherhood. The text brings us face to face with childhood. The true spirit of

of all to our friends and patrons who have helped to make the year that is just closing a most successful and happy one. We trust that our future relations with you and our new friends will be as pleasant as in the past.

It is our sincere wish that your Christmas this year may be the happiest you have ever known, and the New Year be filled with prosperity, good health and happiness.

Our store will remain open tonight until 9 p. m.

UNION PACIFIC TO HAVE GLENDALE TICKET OFFICE

Beginning January 1st the Union Pacific system will conduct a downtown ticket office at 129 South Brand. This will be, as up to date and well appointed as any similar office in Southern California.

The office will be in charge of C. A. Redmond, city passenger agent, who has lived in Glendale fifteen years and who is acquainted with the wants of people residing in this section. J. M. Greaves, who also lives in Glendale, will transfer here from the Los Angeles city ticket office and will have charge of the ticket end. He is a very experienced man along these lines and will render excellent service.

Tickets to all points will be sold and baggage checked from the patron's house in Glendale to destination. Steamship tickets to points all over the world will also be handled.

The new Union Pacific freight depot which will be begun in a few days, will also maintain a branch ticket office for the convenience of people in that part of the city. It is thought that now with such excellent ticketing facilities the people of Glendale will endeavor to keep every cent of Glendale traveling money at home, this resulting in more or less good to the community from time to time as improvements are in mind.

Christmas comes only from the Christ child and is not a myth. Kringle and Santa Claus are unreal and mythical. Why emphasize unreality when we have a glorious reality? A little child shall lead us, for more and more they are asking, "Where is He? For we have seen His star... and are come to worship Him."

"But the sweet strains of the angels' song still reach in the hearts of men. Years roll by, centuries come and go, but the song of the angels is ever new. Also our hearts are gladdened by the notes of this song whenever Christmas comes again. What is the import of this song? "Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth and good will toward men." The angels vanished again into heaven and all was still.

Also our hearts are gladdened by the notes of this song whenever Christmas comes again. What is the import of this song? "Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth and good will toward men." These were the words of the angels' Christmas song. The angels gave glory to God for the thing He had done that Christmas night, when His own Son was born on earth as Saviour of the world. They gave glory to God for His wisdom and power, for His mercy and love, for His faithfulness and truth, which was made manifest in the birth of Christ.

"Sin had caused God to become angry with man. It kindled His wrath; it moved Him to condemn and punish man. For God is a just God. He cannot overlook man's sin. His justice demands that He condemn the sinner. What then should be done? How can God remain just and allow man at the same time to go unpunished? How can His law remain unbroken and man, the breaker of the law, escape? How can God and man be reconciled? Could any man tell? They knew of the fall of man but they could not give any counsel for the redemption of man. But God in His wisdom devised a plan, whereby He could save sinful mankind without denying His justice. He decreed to sacrifice His only Son, to make Him the world's substitute, to let Him atone for the world's sin and thus to become the Saviour of the world. In accordance with this decree the Saviour

"GLORY TO GOD IN THE HIGHEST," REV. KRINGEL'S THEME

Rev. Henry O. Kringle delivered the sermon at the Christmas celebration held on December 24 by the Zion Lutheran congregation on the theme, "Glory to God in the Highest." A program consisting of Christmas hymns, recitations and a piano duet was rendered. Gifts were distributed. Rev. Kringle said in part:

"In I John 4, 16, we read, 'God is love.' That surely answers the question, 'Who is God?' By this incarnation God has rendered Himself visible and what do we see? He is not only love, but He is the greatest love that human mind can conceive of.

"But let us go to Bethlehem and see this love in its infancy. When Jesus was born at Bethlehem an angel from heaven told the shepherds of His birth. Then suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host. They appeared upon hearth, a vast and brilliant throng, singing and making sweet music in the silence of the night. It was something unusual that caused such stir among the inhabitants of heaven. What was it? The people of Bethlehem were sleeping; they paid no attention to a virgin, a poor stranger, who in a stable at the inn was delivered of a child. But the angels knew what had happened. The Son of God was made man, their Creator a little child. They were overcome with joy at the sight. This joy found expression in the song they sang, 'Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth and good will toward men.' The angels vanished again into heaven and all was still.

"But the sweet strains of the angels' song still reach in the hearts of men. Years roll by, centuries come and go, but the song of the angels is ever new. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Augur of Portland, Oregon, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas of North Rosemont Avenue, Mrs. Augur being Mr. Thomas' sister. Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Augur will be the honor guests at a family dinner where Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will entertain eighteen relatives from Los Angeles and Pasadena.

The local fire department and many hundred residents of La Crescenta, rushed to the assistance of C. Randolph on West Altura Avenue yesterday morning and assisted in extinguishing a fire that looked very dangerous for a while. The fire was caused by burning papers in the open.

The La Crescenta Improvement association will give a costume dance next Saturday evening, December 29. This will be the closing dance of the year, and will be "The Dance of the Nations." Prizes will be given for the best costumes representing the different countries. The dance will be under the supervision of T. S. Brown, chairman of the entertainment committee, which assures the success of the affair. A minstrel show, with home talent, is was born on Christmas night. Oh, the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! "The birth of Christ was also a manifestation of God's mercy and love. The world deserved no favors at the hand of God. Without being unjust God could have suffered man to perish in his sins. But God is merciful and full of compassion. Not desiring that the world should perish in its sins, He sent us a Saviour.

"It was a love that could not be fitly extolled by the tongues of men. Therefore the choirs of God came down upon earth to sing of the love that filled the realms of heaven with wonder and delight."

"The Giver and His Gift" Mrs. Moore's Subject

Taking as her subject "The Giver and His Gift," Mrs. Mabel Moore of the Occult Science of Christ church, gave a Christmas talk Sunday evening at 113 South Orange street.

Mrs. Moore, taking her text from Acts 3:1-10, especially the sixth verse, in which Peter tells the lame man: "Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have I give unto thee; in the name of Christ Jesus of Nazareth, rise up and walk," dwelt at length upon the value and method of giving.

She said in part: "As we near the Christmas time it should be the happiest period of our year, as we are celebrating the birth of our Master teacher, Jesus the Christ. However, in looking over the world of mankind at this season, we often see a very considerable amount of discontent and unhappiness, for many find themselves unable to give the gifts they desire most to give, and consequently feel that nothing else would be acceptable. In again considering verse 6, 'Silver and gold have I none, etc.' we see that though we have not silver and gold or their value, let us give freely and lovingly of such as we have. It is a truth that the very greatest of all gifts cannot be bought with money, but only can we give it of ourselves. The gift of friendship is one of the choicest of all gifts that we can offer. A true friend is one of God's greatest blessings. The giving of this gift of friendship is one in which we all may participate, the extent to which we give it being determined by ourselves.

Yet another way in which we may carry forth the spirit of the Yuletide, is to give of ourselves in love and in service one to another, serving impersonally for the benefit of all, and for the glory of God. There is, however, another way in which one can manifest this precious spirit of the Christside. We may give of our thoughts, in kindness, in helpfulness, and in cheer."

The last point that Mrs. Moore brought before the attention of her hearers was that "we should in all our giving at this season of the year not forget to give unto ourselves the gifts of the spirit, that is, meekness, gentleness, kindness to all living creatures, forbearance and fortitude."

one of the entertainments being planned by the association, in the near future. The proceeds of all these affairs will be used for the maintenance of the local fire department and should have the hearty support of every resident in the valley.

The regular Sunday School and church services of the Episcopal church were held at the school auditorium yesterday morning, Dr. Noble of Pasadena presiding. There will be no services here Christmas morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krammer will be hosts at a Community Christmas tree this evening at their attractive home on North Rosemont avenue to which Mr. and Mrs. Krammer extend an invitation to all children of the La Crescenta valley.

Mrs. M. B. Darrow, librarian, announces the La Crescenta branch of the Los Angeles County Free library will be open Wednesday evening instead of Tuesday, for this week only, from 7 to 9 p. m.

Truths in Epigram

The voice of the Almighty saith, "Up and onward forever more!" — Emerson.

You must take hold of manhood by the heart if you would train it into strength and dignity and usefulness.—Joseph Parker.

Each time we smell the autumn's dying scent, we know that primrose-time will come again.—George Macdonald.

THE WIFELY INFLUENCE

The statement is made that Henry Ford refrained through the influence of his wife from entering the presidential contest. In the statement the opponents of Coolidge, who had hoped to win something for themselves, seek to find comfort. They are trying to create the impression that Ford has taken a stand in order to please Mrs. Ford. This would have been gallant on his part, to be sure, but it hardly seems reasonable as an explanation. It is not believed that any wife to whose husband there was available the honor of being considered for the highest office in the land, would urge him to reject it. The nomination in itself would be a distinction not to be held lightly.

Mr. Ford has declared himself in favor of President Coolidge. In so doing he has dealt a bitter blow to the hopes of the Johnson contingent. In merely withholding himself from the contest he could have had no reason for putting in a good word for any one else left in the field. He felt that Coolidge ought to be elected. He did not propose to place any obstacle in the way. This makes clear the reason for his course. If so be Mrs. Ford is pleased at the outcome, that circumstance, while most fortunate, must be considered as quite incidental.

BETTER SAVE THEIR BREATH

It is said that a number of senators have expressed the intention of contributing to a grand total of speeches directed against Secretary Hughes. The incentive is the fact that the secretary has told the truth about soviet Russia. In doing so he has defined with precision the opinion of the people of the United States. He has said that this government will enter into no negotiations with a regime that has been plotting, and continues to plot for the overthrow of all American institutions, including the republic itself.

The senators who are planning to assail the perfectly fortified position of the secretary will be as usefully employed as though engaged in butting their resounding ivory domes against a stone wall. Perhaps they would be wiser to save breath and devote their energies to devising more deadlocks, or to keeping present deadlocks intact.

Taken throughout, the people of this country, and the senators, are not red or even pink. The average citizen has no patience with the parlor echo of Moscow bolshevism. Here and there may be discerned a reddish spot in the social fabric, but the chances are that familiarity with soap ultimately will cause this to disappear. Meanwhile vociferous statesmen who expand their lungs and wag agile tongues on behalf of recognition of Russia, are going counter to the sentiment of the nation, this being a people neither blind, nor especially weak in its collective head.

GREAT IN POPULATION

Chicago is approaching the 3,000,000 mark in population. Los Angeles counts itself at 1,000,000. Both places are growing rapidly. There are many who believe that Chicago is to become the largest city in the United States, with the California metropolis second. Looking far into the future they think they behold Los Angeles at the head of the list. Perhaps they do not err. The increase of Los Angeles has been beyond precedent. It has the aspect of permanency, and it does not pause. As it expands it is bound to knit the whole community into one metropolitan unit.

But as cities grow is there not too little attention paid to the character of the additional elements? The United States needs immigrants, but it imposes severe restrictions. It is not seeking a population merely to add to the count of noses each succeeding decade. Its desire is for the useful type of immigrant, the one capable of being transformed into citizenship. Of course, as people pour into a city, there is no methods of assorting them. They are urged to come, and they come. Their presence adds to the total of business transactions, and to the value of property. There are other things that thoughtful folk would be likely to consider.

There is no desire to reflect upon the make-up of Los Angeles, but certain statistics heralded by its own press possess a significant interest, greater perhaps than the figures of the vast construction in progress. For example, in contrast to 2200 burglaries in Canada in a year Los Angeles reports 5500 in five months, an increase of 1200 per cent in a few years. Murders in the United States per thousand far outstrip those of any other country, and in this respect Los Angeles is 52 times worse than London. While London is having a score of robberies annually Los Angeles furnishes forth a record of 1045 in a single year.

Surely a great city owes to itself the duty of protection against an influx of thugs and assassins. But the army of crime marches in. Occasionally some member of its ranks is apprehended, and less occasionally, he is punished. There are indignant citizens protesting. There is a busy but inadequate police. There are many courts, all supposed to function in discouragement of crime, but there is a vital flaw. Too many undesirable, unquestioned, have been admitted into the casual contact that gives them opportunity to prey upon society.

SAVING THE CHILD'S COUL

A man arraigned for beating his daughter, a child of six, pleaded guilty. He explained that he had administered the blows for the good of her soul. Disinterested but kindly folk, who had seen the livid scars on the body of the little one expressed doubt that placing them there by means of a strap, had been of benefit to the soul of the victim. Probably it had been satisfactory to the father, but that it did his soul any good is not an acceptable theory. The general opinion is that either he has no soul, or that it has reached a condition beyond aid.

It seems that the father, rigorous devotee to some form of religious worship, had taken the girl to church. The sermon evidently had not appealed to her understanding. Perhaps it was too deep for her, or perhaps the brutality of its sentiments appalled her. At any rate she was detected by the parental eye in the act of squirming restlessly. It was the childish form of protest against being there. She was not uplifted by the peculiar faith that sustained the father. The spectacle of her worldliness grieved him. So he took her home and beat her cruelly.

This father does not deserve a Merry Christmas. If his New Year is permitted to be happy, justice will have gone awry in his case. He should be spending the season in a secure jail, with no helpless children to annoy him, and no chance to act on the impulse to strap them for the good of their souls. It really is to be regretted that no legal method exists of giving him a dose of his own soul medicine. A sound beating might make him a better man.

The fact that Los Angeles leads all ports in the volume of inter-coastal traffic through the canal is not in itself a surprising circumstance. That it exceeds by so wide a margin is surprising. For nine months of the year its total was 2,000,000 tons greater than that of New York, and by more than a million tons greater than that of all other Pacific ports combined. When the fact is remembered that only a few years ago people smiled in a superior way at the suggestion that there ever was to be a harbor at Los Angeles, the figures really become impressive.

Any man who tries to dodge his taxes has no business to hanker for fame.

A yacht can stand on a tack in silence, but a man isn't built like a yacht.

"INTELLIGENCE TESTS"

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

When we have intelligence tests for people who seek to enter into social relations we may get somewhere without problems.

As things now stand we behave as if nothing required intelligence save matters financial. But Professor E. A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin holds out hope that within a measurably short time we may have intelligence test requirements for marriage.

Joy and rapture. Fancy having the assurance that the person one has chosen on an emotional impulse has had his brains guaranteed by experts and of knowing that he or she, as the case may be, is likely to prove a livable human.

"Native intelligence, apart from education or other acquired knowledge," should be sought in the tests," says Professor Ross.

Will not some one arise here and declare this proposal "revolutionary?" Marriage is really the last stronghold of tyranny, the one place where people do to each other things that would never be tolerated anywhere else. It is the greatest profession, the most lasting, the most delicate, the most vital of all professions; yet it is the one profession that may be entered absolutely without preparation, broken without penalty and through which the majority pass without seeming to learn anything that will make them better matrimonial risks because of experience.

Can one suppose that a man who could pass a moderate intelligence test would ever bring home a second wife, introduce her to his first effort and say that he was unable to decide which of the women he loved best? That was done recently and nobody seemed startled.

Would a man who could stand an intelligence test expect to spend nine-tenths of his income on his private vices and the rest on his family and get away with it? What might not an intelligence test do to prevent such experiences as that of a young woman of my acquaintance who was told by her eight-months husband that he had lived for five of the eight months with another woman, who had now left for another state and that he "did not see how he was to endure the separation."

Education enables people to understand books; intelligence enables them to understand their own natures and the reactions of their associates.

Half the misery and failure in the world arises from the paucity of understanding shown by the stupid in regard to the feelings and rights of others. Understanding is a matter of intelligence and in the end analysis understanding is the only thing with which we can live.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

My friend the travelling man picked up a newspaper. He turned to the editorial page, glanced at the column of wit, slander and chatter under a well known name, and threw the paper down in disgust.

"That guy," said he—my friend the travelling man talks street-English—"gives me a pain. He seems to think that Americans are to be sneered at, that are is necessarily filthy, and that a happy marriage is food for laughter."

"He is a big man," I said, being anxious to get the traveller's goat. "He gets a big salary."

"He is a little, dirty man," said the travelling man. "He may get a big salary but he is not a big man. He discloses his emptiness and vulgarity each day. Fresh and fresh."

Then he told a story of two villages he "makes" in his pilgrimages. They are of practically equal age, both being filled with pseudo-English cottages, intermeshed with pseudo-Californian bungalows. They are inhabited as nearly as might be with the same sort of people. It happened that in one village there were four or five bright, intelligent, up-and-coming women.

"They started a little village lending library," said he, "and because their capital was small determined to buy only those books that would have some permanent value to the subscribers. The consequence is that hardly one of the modern 'dirty' books are to be found in it. Smut, eroticism, sickly romance, the gutter scrapings that this columnist calls art, are not to be found at all. The leaders in the other village also started a lending library, but they placed an order with a city book-seller.

"Keep us abreast of modern fiction," said they. In the first village, he said, you can hear good talk on the opera, literature, sport, hunting, fishing, politics, invention, the things that are worth while in the world. In the other you hear of synthetic gin and grimly justified divorces.

Christ!
The greatest figure of all

None like him.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The two lads who deliberately murdered a smaller boy, the tragedy recently shocking Pasadena, have received their sentences. They go to a place of juvenile detention until of age. After that they are to be brought back for further consideration by the court.

The young degenerates had confessed the crime, but neither had given a sign of regret. It was surprising therefore when one of them appeared, fortified by counsel, and repudiated the confession. The fact that he was lying on the stand, of course, was fully recognized.

There could be no possibility of a satisfactory disposition of such a case. Doubtless the judge did the utmost that discretion could suggest. The outlook for these two unfortunates is hopeless. They lack intelligence and are wholly devoid of moral sense. On the side of mentality having to do with right and wrong, they are idiots.

It would be contrary to all sentiment to hold them responsible and punish them as though normal and mature. Yet it is to be regretted that they are to be among other youths, some of whom may have the makings of good citizens. To place them in the penitentiary now would be cruel. Nevertheless, in some manner, society must be protected against such perverted and dangerous types.

Since the details of the Moscow plan "to raise the red flag over the White House" have been disclosed, something should be done about it. The mere rejection of overtures from the soviet regime is nothing more than a start in the right direction.

So far as the residents of this country concerned in the scheme are aliens, they ought to be on board out-going steamers in a short time. In the absence of such reds, the native pinks probably would fade to normal hue.

The rib of a whale has been picked up in Orange county. That is a whale of a county for citrus fruit, but singularly shy on ocean-going mammals. The ancient bone tells a queer story. It indicates that the region in which for countless thousands of years it had reposed was once under the ocean. The ocean has not been there for a long time.

Bootlegging has introduced a new peril. Many prohibition agents are out on the highways looking for automobiles carrying contraband. The wholly innocent driver is likely to be halted suddenly. Very likely he is timid anyhow because of the frequency of holdups. To such a driver a prohibition agent looks very like a bandit. The driver flees, the agents shoot. Experience has impressed in several instances, the conviction that to be shot by a prohibition agent is no more of a physical treat, than to be shot by a robber.

A Chicago man stole millions and millions, robbing friends who had trusted him for years. Then he fled with his booty. As this is written his arrest is supposed to be imminent.

What a fool! There is no happiness for such a creature, no sense of security. He quickly learns to hate himself and whatever surroundings he may have chosen.

Justice Cox of Santa Ana continues the good work of sending speeders to jail. They object, but they go. They tell him that the state law permits them to speed if they feel like it. Cox listens blandly enough, but declines to believe them.

An aide of the district attorney has been suspended on the charge that he had given papers and information to a defendant in a serious criminal case. There could be no excuse for forming a hasty judgment. The accused may be innocent as the skipping lamb-kin. But the circumstances look dark.

The prisoner in this case was charged with a crime against a woman. He made strenuous efforts to avoid trial, and for a time seemed likely to succeed. He is understood to have an abundance of money. But despite this, and the influence that seemed to seek to corrupt the prosecution, he was found guilty. It is a pretty serious thing if he had help from the office of the district attorney.

Convicts lead drab lives as a rule. A recent battle royal with knives engaging the earnest efforts of six of their number must have relieved the monotony much. It was staged with the entire population of San Quentin looking on. Nobody was killed, which was remarkable, and the fight did not spread, which, considering that it was a little race war, was more remarkable still.

Sixty-three out of 128 cars stolen in Los Angeles recently have been recovered, and sixteen of the thieves are under arrest. Even if the world is not growing better, this will have a tendency to give it a start.

The Chinese who led the train-wrecking bandits a few months ago has been executed. The method employed is not stated, but the Chinese, so mild mannered as a rule, are not known to be gentle in their methods of meting out justice.

There are a whole lot of bandits in free and enlightened America who deserve the treatment given this Oriental, whatever it was.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Merry Christmas. This one day Father Time stops in his stride and slumbers. The magic of Christmas has fallen upon him and he stands fixed in his place. The spirit of Christmas is abroad in the world and Time is unheeding. Merry Christmas!

Glowing red fires are set like beacons along the roadway; towers of light dot the night; the fragrance of everyone leads you along the way; peals of laughter and shouts of glee tell you it is nearer; a child's hand slips into yours and there you are! Back to the land of your dreams and your childhood.

On this delightful day, dreams come true for the dreaming. To be sure, you must hold fast to the hand of a child in the dreaming, but there's always a friendly child with outstretched hand to comfort the care-burdened grown-up. Just smile and look helpless and the little hand slips into yours and you're off! Merry Christmas!

My but it feels good! Never were one's feet so light, laughter so easy, so deep and so certain. The heart swells until it's as big as creation and the bigger it gets the warmer it grows, and the warmer it grows the bigger it gets, until you're all mixed up in a batter of happiness. Blessings on the children. Happy Christmas!

Straight through the Wishing Gate the little hand pulls you and a wish falls into your hand and as you turn it over and over in wonder it slips out of your grasp right into the smaller hand and opens itself into ripples of glee that by and by settle into pools of deep content. The very thing you had wished for—a child and contentment wrapped about in the fairy trappings of Christmas. Merry Christmas!

Laughing, you go racing off to the plum tree and shake down a shower of sweet things—one for you and one for him and behold! another magic! You can see what you never have seen before—a vision of Christmas giving.

Why were you so blind when the child-hand was every ready to point you the way? Secrets are all bare now that were always yours for the searching—waiting in silence the magic of Christmas. This child needs a doll and this one needs comfort; one needs a wagon and that one a dog; this needs a petting and this needs a book; he needs a drum and this one warm feet for the winter. All need the spirit of Christmas.

Quick! Father Time sleeps but this instant and the magic is over. At midnight, you know, the clock will strike twelve and the bright beacon lights will be just the weakened berries of holly; the towers of light the glittered ripples of burnt out wax candles; laughter will die and the Wishing Gates close; Christmas is over.

Catch the hand that is offered and steal this one grain from Time's treasure. Enter your childhood again and find there your dream and your vision still hung on the trees of the fairies. The eager hand of a child will lead you. There you will find Merry Christmas!

[Mr. Patri will answer all letters, dealing with problems of child-education, if the writer will enclosed a stamped addressed envelope.]

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

A Brief History

By FRANK P. LITSCHERT

A NEW PARTY IN THE FIELD

Early in 1855 the leaders of the new party commenced planning for the first Republican national convention which they intended to hold the following year. On June 19, 1855, the Republican Association of the District of Columbia was formed at Washington and an anti-slavery platform was adopted. The association did not become active, however, until the first of the following year when a circular was addressed to the friends of the Republican movement in the country and a call for a convention was issued. This call invited Republicans of the United States to meet in an informal convention at Pittsburgh on February 22, 1856, to perfect a national organization which would select candidates for President and Vice-President. It was signed by the Republican state chairmen of Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

The primary convention was a complete success. All of the so-called free states were fully represented and delegates were present from the border states of Maryland, Virginia, Missouri and Kentucky. There was plenty of enthusiasm and speeches were made by Greeley, of New York; Lovejoy, of Illinois and many others. John A. King was president pro tem and Francis P. Blair permanent chairman. The meeting lasted for two days and made arrangements for the holding of a Republican national convention in Philadelphia on June 17. The resolutions demanded the repeal of all laws allowing the introduction of slavery into territories which had been made free by the Missouri compromise and offered support to the men who were then attempting to make Kansas free territory.

The First Convention

The first Republican national convention was called to order on June 17 by E. D. Morgan, of New York, national chairman of the Republican party in the campaigns of 1856, 1860, 1864 and 1876, who said to his fellow Republicans: "You are assembled for patriotic purposes. High expectations are cherished by the people. You are here today to give direction to a movement which is to decide whether the people of the United States are to be hereafter and forever chained to the present national policy of the extension of human slavery. Not whether the South is to rule or the North is to do the same thing, but whether the broad national policy our fathers established, cherished and forever maintained is to be permitted to descend to her sons, to be the watchword, the text and the guiding star of all her people."

Dr. Robert T. Emmet, a nephew of the famous Irish patriot of the same name, was selected as temporary chairman of the convention which consisted of 565 delegates representing all of the free states and Delaware, Kentucky and Maryland as well. There were few contests and Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, was elected permanent chairman. Pervid speeches were made by Dr. Emmet and Mr. Lane, by Owen Lovejoy, of Illinois; Henry Wilson, of Massachusetts; Caleb Smith, of Indiana, and others.

Resolutions were adopted on the following day and the convention then turned to the selection of candidates. New York was unanimously for William H. Seward for President, but Seward declined to stand for the nomination. Judge McLean and Salmon P. Chase of Ohio were mentioned as candidates but requested the withdrawal of their names. On the first ballot John C. Fremont, of California, received 359 votes; Judge McLean, of Ohio, 190 votes; Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, two votes; Nathaniel P. Banks, of Massachusetts, and William H. Seward, of New York, one vote each. Fremont was then unanimously declared the nominee for President.

On the third day, the convention balloted for Vice-President. William L. Dayton, of New Jersey, received 253 votes; Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois, 110 votes; Nathaniel P. Banks, of Massachusetts, 46 votes; David Wilmot, of Pennsylvania, 43 votes; Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, 35 votes. The rest of the votes were scattered. Dayton was then unanimously nominated for Vice-President.

The remainder of the convention was given over to speech-making and Henry Wilson declared: "Gentlemen, let our motto in this canvass be 'Free Speech, Free Press, Free Men, Free Labor and Free Thought.'" Out of this sentence came the Republican slogan in its first campaign.

The resolutions adopted by the first Republican national convention were as follows:

Republican Platform, 1856

This convention of delegates, assembled in pursuance of a call addressed to the people of the United States, without regard to past political differences or divisions, who are opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, to the policy of the present administration, to the extension of slavery into free territory in favor of admitting Kansas as a free state, of restoring the action of the federal government to the principles of Washington and Jefferson, and who purpose to unite in presenting candidates for the offices of President and Vice-President.

Resolved, That the maintenance of principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the federal Constitution are essential to the preservation of our republican institutions, and that the federal Constitution, the rights of the states, and the Union of the states must be preserved.

Resolved, That, with our republican fathers, we hold it to be a self-evident truth that all men are endowed with the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and that the primary object and ulterior design of our federal government were to secure these rights to all persons under its exclusive jurisdiction; that, as our republican fathers, when they had abolished slavery in all our national territory, ordained that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, it becomes our duty to maintain this provision of the Constitution against all attempts to violate it for the purpose of establishing slavery in the United States, by positive legislation prohibiting its existence of extension therein; that we deny the authority of Congress, of a territorial legislature, of any individual or association of individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States while the federal Constitution shall be maintained.

Resolved, That the Constitution conferred upon Congress sovereign power over the territories of the United States for their government, and that in the exercise of this power it is both the right and the imperative duty of Congress to prohibit in the territories those twin relics of barbarism, polygamy and slavery.

Resolved, That while the Constitution of the United States was ordained and established by the loving order to "form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty," and contains ample provision for the protection of life, liberty and property of every citizen, the dearest constitutional rights of the people of Kansas have been fraudulently and violently taken from them; their territory has been invaded by an armed force; spurious and pretended legislative, judicial and executive officers have been set over them by whose usurped authority, sustained by the military power of the government, tyrannical and unconstitutional laws have been enacted and enforced; the right of the people to keep and bear arms has been infringed; test oaths of an extraordinary and entangling nature have been imposed as a condition of exercising the right of suffrage and holding office; the right of an accused person to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury has been denied; the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures has been violated; they have been deprived of life, liberty and property without due process of law; the freedom of speech and of the press has been bridged; the right to choose their representatives has been made of no effect; murders, robberies and arson have been instigated and encouraged, and the offenders have been allowed to go unpunished; that all these things have been done with the knowledge, sanction and procurement of the present national administration, and that for this high crime against the Constitution, the Union and humanity we arraign the administration, the President, his advisers, agents, supporters, apologists and accessories, either before or after the fact, before the country and before the world; and that it is our fixed purpose to bring the actual perpetrators of these atrocious outrages and their accomplices, to a sure and condign punishment hereafter.

Resolved, That Kansas should be immediately admitted as a state of the Union, with her present free constitution, as at once the most effectual way of securing to her citizens the enjoyment of the rights and privileges to which they are entitled, and of ending the civil strife now raging in her territory.

Resolved, That the highwayman's plea that "might makes right," embodied in the Ostend circular, was in every respect unworthy of American diplomacy, and would bring shame and dishonor upon any government or people that gave it their sanction.

Resolved, That a railroad to the Pacific Ocean by the most central and practicable route is imperatively demanded by the interests of the whole country, and that the federal government ought to render immediate and efficient aid in its construction; and as an auxiliary thereto to the immediate construction of an emigrant route on the line of the railroad.

Resolved, That appropriations for the improvement of rivers and harbors of a national character, required for the accommodation and security of our existing commerce, are authorized by the Constitution and justified by the obligation of the government to protect the lives and property of its citizens.

Resolved, That we invite the affiliation and co-operation of the men of all parties, however differing from us in other respects, in support of the principles herein declared; and, believing that the spirit of our institutions as well as the Constitution of our country guarantees liberty of conscience and equality of rights among citizens, we oppose all legislation impairing their security.

MONTROSE NOTES

The many little Montrose kiddies who attend Mrs. Neilson's kindergarten classes at her charming home on Montrose avenue, were delighted with the pleasant Christmas party which she gave for them Saturday morning. Even more pleasing to them was the opportunity which she gave them to entertain their parents at that time. The children had many pretty and clever gifts under Mrs. Neilson's direction, and these they presented to their mothers and daddies during the progress of the party. They were permitted also to help in the trimming of the great tree which bore many attractive gifts and favors.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Haskins attended the special musical services held at the First Congregational church in Pasadena Sunday evening. Mrs. Haskins is a girlhood friend of Miss Susanna Gardner, who is director of music at the church.

Members of Verdugo Hills post of the American Legion are urged to turn out for the next meeting which will be held the first Wednesday in January, rather than December 26th, as was formerly announced. It is expected that the charter for the post will have arrived by that time and full organization will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thomas will spend Christmas day with the E. M. Brown family of La Crescenta. This will be the first Christmas which the young bride and groom have spent as husband and wife.

Residents of Montrose are urged to remember the jolly Christmas eve party which will be given this evening by the Montrose Community Club. The affair will be held in the tabernacle on the corner of Montrose and Mira Vista avenues, and will commence promptly at 7:30. There will be a delightful program of music and readings, which will be followed by the presentation of gifts and favors. Santa Claus has consented to tend to the disposition of candy and nuts for the kiddies, and he will see that a beautiful Christmas tree is placed in the hall so that the kiddies may miss nothing of the spirit of Yuletide.

The Democratic. In the more conservative East the skeletons of the Whig and Know-Nothing or American parties remained but the drift there was decidedly from these into the Republican and Democratic organizations. In the South the strongest parties were the Democratic and American, as the Southern Whigs had joined the Know-Nothing party was organized to combat politically the foreign born element in our population. Like the Whig, it was split on slavery.

The Democratic convention had met in Cincinnati in June and nominated James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, for President, and John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, for Vice President. The Whigs met at Baltimore in September and nominated Millard C. Fillmore for President.

The leaders of the new Republican party entered into the campaign with the vigorous enthusiasm of youth. They centered their efforts in the North as it was conceded that the slave owners of the South would support Buchanan. The latter, however, was a Northerner and a shrewd politician. He conducted his campaign so as to hold the slave holders of the South and at the same time appeal to the Northern Democrats who were not entirely in sympathy with the slave power.

The South began to threaten secession if the Republicans won—it was the same threat which had won for slavery since 1787. Ex-President Tyler, Southern Democrat, declared: "It is quite sensibly felt by all that the success of the Black-Republicans would sound the death knell of the Union."

Thousands of Northerners were in doubt as to what to do. Many of them were inclined to support Buchanan to prevent a threatened civil war and others thought that the Whig and not the Republican party would be the lasting one.

Not Discouraged by Odds. The Republican campaigners, however, were not discouraged by the odds against them and the apparent almost certainty of defeat. In speaking of the campaign of 1856 Rhodes, the historian, says: "Never in our history and probably never in the history of the world had a more pure, more disinterested and more intelligent body of men banded together for a noble political object than those who now enrolled themselves under the Republican banner."

The men devoted to literature and science, the teachers in the schools were for the most part Republicans. On the Sunday before election most of the ministers of New England preached and prayed from their pulpits against the success of Buchanan.

Impressed by the importance of the issue literary men forsook their quiet retreats to help the cause they deemed sacred. Emerson addressed a town meeting; Longfellow took part in a political gathering; Bryant entered into the canvass with ardor and advocated the election of Fremont by speech as well as by pen; and George William Curtis frequently spoke to his fellow citizens urging them to vote for the Republican candidates.

Washington Irving declared his purpose of voting for Fremont. Longfellow wrote to Sumner that one reason why he did not go to Europe was on account of losing his vote in the autumn. "I have great respect for that now," he continued, "though

And the Cashier Was So Sweet and Kindly

I went in to the restaurant the other night
To eat my supper.

I knew that I could not order very largely.
On account of the amazing slenderness of my purse.

(Such are the results of budgee-teering)
Well, I gaily ordered my humble fare.

Which I eyed with hungry eyes.
(It was a nice juicy pot roast).

And oh, how delicious it was.
Half-way through my supper.

A thought struck me.
An unpleasant thought.

I reached for my purse.
I opened, and counted my change wildly.

I immediately lost my appetite for pot roast;
Indeed, all pleasure in life completely vanished.

I was stranded, a lone inhabitant on a desert isle.

I—(let me whisper) I had not enough to pay for my meal.

Which was 40 cents, ten cents more than I had counted on.

I left my high stool, and walked over to cashier.

And explained my predicament.
And then I wished that I had finished my supper.

For she was very kind and smiling.
Treating it as though it were a joke.

I guess it was, but a pretty stale one.

But I decided then and there that after this
I'd not buy chocolate bars in the afternoon.

But would save my money for my supper.
And that way I'd not get into trouble.

I never cared about it before. *
* * Harriet Beecher Stowe published another anti-slavery novel, which, though far inferior to her masterpiece, found many readers.

Whittier in passionate verse begged votes for Fremont.

Pennsylvania and Indiana held October elections and these, favorable to the Democrats, presaged the election of Buchanan in November. Buchanan indeed won 174, or two more than a majority, in the electoral college but Fremont received 114 electoral votes and Fillmore, the Whig candidate, but 8—the vote of Maryland.

Buchanan's popular vote was 1,838,169, and that of Fremont 1,341,264 while Fillmore received but 874,534 votes. The Republicans were greatly encouraged by the result. The Whig and Know-Nothing parties were destroyed and the permanence of the Republican party assured.

The Republicans had carried Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wisconsin, and had come very near to carrying Illinois, Indiana and New Jersey. The threat of secession had won again but the victory was to be his last.

The Dred Scott Decision. Shortly after President Buchanan's inauguration Chief Justice Taney of the United States Supreme Court handed down the historic Dred Scott decision in which he held that a negro, whether slave or free, was not an American citizen and could not sue for his liberty in the United States courts.

Scott was a slave who had been taken by his master into free territory where he lived for two years. Being returned to Missouri he demanded his freedom on the ground that he had lived on free soil and so was a free man. Justice Taney held that Scott had not become a free man by living on territory made free by the Missouri compromise act because Congress had no right to pass such a law.

The decision created great excitement and concern in the North where it was believed that it might throw even the free states open to slavery. This feeling undoubtedly further strengthened the Republican cause and many who had been wavering, now decided to join the new party.

In 1858 the Republicans won new victories. William H. Seward was now a full-fledged Republican. New York was carried, E. D. Morgan chosen governor and a Republican legislature elected. Pennsylvania, Minnesota and New Jersey gave Republicans majorities for the first time. Indiana Republicans elected a majority of their congressional candidates and in other states where the Republicans had won in 1856 the majorities were increased.

Only California of all the free states endorsed President Buchanan's administration. The anti-slavery sentiment of the North was steadily consolidating in the Republican party. The stage was slowly being set for the appearance two years later of the real Man of Destiny.

SPORT
-O-
GRAMS

Are we, the American people addicted to hero-worship in too great a proportion? Are we inclined to render hero-worship to the individual who excels in one particular line of activity to a greater degree than necessity requires?

It seems that an affirmative answer is the only reply possible to such a question. It is a peculiar trait of the American people to worship their idols in different lines of endeavor. The Latins are the traditional hero worshippers, yet there is and can be only one Napoleon or one Garibaldi. They may worship the one great hero of their land but they are not addicted to hero worship to such an extensive degree as are the Americans.

We of America have our heroes and popular idols in the sport world who are worshipped by the people as one would scarcely believe possible. We have our Babe Ruth, Charlie Paddock, Jack Dempsey, John McGraw, Brick Muller and any number of more or less equally idolized popular gods of the sport world. We set up the champion on a pedestal and put him on the level, yes, even above, the greatest men of the land.

In a recent news reel displayed at a nearby theatre, it was singularly amusing to the writer to note that the picture of Jack Dempsey, when thrown on the silver screen, brought more applause than that of the President of the United States and his cabinet. Probably it had been General Pershing instead of President Coolidge, the applause would have been as great as that given the pugilist, because a military leader is just as popular a subject for hero worship as is a heavyweight champion.

By this we do not mean to place any discredit upon the sporting and athletic idols, who are worshipped by the people of the country. For the most part they are clean cut men, working to achieve success in their particular line of endeavor. Of course there are exceptions. But what we are getting at, or rather trying to reach, is the peculiar psychology underlying the extreme hero worship which characterizes the American people. It exists and is manifested at every turn. It is clearly demonstrated in athletics and sports. It seems rather unjust, for, as in football, the man who plays on the line and stops the terrific plunges of the opposition or makes the holes for the back field to get through, gets little or no credit, while the man who carries the ball through these holes is the hero of the day. This hero worship is an American trait that can't be analyzed, it just exists.

DAILY PRESS
SPORT PAGEOLYMPICS ARRIVE FOR GAME WITH THE INDIANS

Coach Evans and his Olympic club gridders of San Francisco arrived in Los Angeles this morning to battle with the Haskell Indian eleven tomorrow afternoon at Washington park. The Winged O men have been working hard and will give the Indians the battle of their lives tomorrow. Evans will not start a team made up of stars that have played on college teams this year. He will use the men who have played with the Olympics all season and have performed well. The team worked out at Washington park this morning, and looked like a real classy outfit.

From all advance indications the game should be chock full of thrills. Both teams are playing their closing game for the season and each will be out to show everything. Neither eleven has anything to lose and consequently there should be no attempts to cover up, or the usual stalling characteristics of many so-called championship battles. The Olympians will have a lot to crow about if they trounce the Redskins, while on the other hand the Indians don't like the idea of closing their season with a defeat.

It is a safe bet that Coach Dick Hanley's "Injuns" will make the battle an interesting one to watch. If ever a team showed a more diversified repertoire in practice we have yet to see such. The former Washington State star has combined a powerful running attack around Big Chief John Levi and Carpenter, with a brilliant and bewildering forward pass offensive which should keep the Olympians guessing through the entire game.

Especially will the aerial attack of the Redskins bother the Bay City men. Big Chief John Levi does most of the passing for the Haskell team, but the exact time and place for his "shots" is always different. He passes on the dead run, and although we don't know for sure we will bet that half the time John is supposed to pass he just keeps on running around the end, principally on account of wonderful interference and also because the defense will invariably hang back, expecting a pass. John's brother leaves the leather now and then and Elkins can also pass. Carpenter, who seems to be the Indian man of all work, shifts back from his end berth and either carries the oval or throws a forward. All of which elements of a rather diversified offensive.

University of Arkansas has just added basketball to its sports.

Don't shoot too near people's houses, livestock or poultry. Much damage is done and many good hunting grounds are "closed" because of such carelessness.

WHITE SOX PLAY
ELEVEN INNINGS
TO 4 TO 4 TIE

Mike Doulin's Glendale White Sox were not able to get away with the long end of the score, but they were content to retain an equal portion of the day's runs in yesterday's game with Wally Hood's Sawtelle team at the local ball park yesterday. The game was called at the end of the eleventh inning on account of darkness with a four to four tie.

Butler of Sawtelle was the first man to cross the plate. He was walked in the initial frame by Arnold Crandall, Glendale heavier, and sent to second on a sacrifice by Twombly. He scored on a long single into right by Wally Hood.

Things drifted along until the last of the third, when the White Sox got busy. Bill Doran, first man at bat, knocked the apple over the right field fence and calmly went through the ceremony of trotting around the bases. Chicken Hawks singled and then stole second, taking third after Hood's catch of Doc Crandall's fly. He scored when Carl Sawyer went to first on an error by Butler, Sawtelle shortstop. Having a lead of one run, the White Sox were content to retire for the night. Smith and Slade fouled out to McMullin, Sawtelle catcher.

Glendale put over two more tallies in the sixth canto. Smith, the first man up, was put out at first. Slade was hit by a pitched ball and took first. Adams, coming up next, proceeded to wallop the pill a hard one and send it over the right field fence for a homer, scoring a couple of runs. Arnold Crandall and Coleman were retired at first and it looked like the White Sox had the game on ice with a four to one lead.

Sawtelle came up in the seventh and made two runs. Cooper was put out at first by Chicken Hawks, who unassisted picked up the ball and strolled over toward first and touched the bag before Cooper got there. McDonnell got on first as the result of an error by Arnold Crandall. Gillespie was put out at first, then McMullin laid on the ball with so much force that he knocked it away into deep center in the corner of the fence. He galloped around the bases, also scoring McDonnell, before the ball could be relayed home. Barnaba, batting for Campbell, Sawtelle, singled, but Cramer flied out to Hawkes, ending the inning.

The White Sox' lead was by no means secure with only one run to the good and the Sawtelle gang going strong. Barnaba replaced Campbell in the box for Hood's outfit. The Sox made no headway and Sawtelle came to bat in the eighth and tied the score. Butler was the first man up, and singled infield. He was sent to second on a sacrifice by Twombly. Hood drove a long single in right field, scoring Butler. Cooper walked, but was caught between first and second McDonnell was put out at first, ending the inning, and also the scoring for the day.

The Sox could not stage a comeback in their half of the eighth and for three more innings the teams battled, until darkness halted the tilt. In the tenth Whitaker replaced Crandall on the mound for Glendale. A couple of walks and a single nearly gave Glendale a score in that frame, but the inning ended by a putout at first. In the eleventh Sawtelle got three men on bases, but no score resulted. Two hot disputes between the players and the umpire marked the frame, but both ended without casualties.

Both teams put up a great game. Crandall pitched a fairly good game, although he weakened at times. The new members of the team, Chicken Hawks, Smith and Adams, showed up in good style. Marty Krug, manager of the Los Angeles Angels, who is also a citizen of Glendale, occupied a box seat to get a line on some of the men. Fire of the players who performed yesterday will be in his charge in the spring. The score: Sawtelle 4, Glendale 4.

Innings pitched—By Campbell, 7; Barnaba, 4; Crandall, 10 1-3; Whitaker, 2-3. Home runs—Doran, Adams, McDonnell on sacrifice hit—Twombly. Bases on balls—Off Campbell, 5; Barnaba, 2; Crandall, 3. Struck out—By Campbell, 3; Barnaba, 7; Crandall, 3; Whitaker, 2.

WILMINGTON GRABS
LEAD BY WIN OVER
TOLLS, PEDRO LOSES

Wilmington stepped into first place in the Triple A race yesterday by defeating the Union Tool crowd 5 to 5 in the Wilmington park.

Wilmington's leading position in the Triple A race was brought about by one of the best uphill struggles witnessed in the major belt this season. After the Union Tool club had what was thought to be a commanding lead, Pete Mele's crew found Hurler Preigh for a pair of runs in the seventh inning. The home folks brought the contest to a thrilling climax in the ninth by bringing home two more markers, deciding the issue.

Wilmington 5, Union Tool 0. By stopping the Merchants of San Pedro, Shell Oil not only pulled the former out of the premier berth, but forged their way to a place so close to the top that they are now considered one of the most dangerous foes in the Three A circuit.

Fred Fairbanks was again the outstanding star of the Shell-San Pedro fracas. After Jack Burns' crew squeezed over a run in the second frame they were practically helpless before Fairbanks' delivery. Josh Clark's team lost little time in overtaking the visitors after they scored their initial tally, tying the score in the last half of the second. Frank Metz, Shell

Oil's heaviest slugger, fired up to his reputation as a socker by putting the Royal Dutchmen out in front in the third stanza with a clout which sent home two runs. San Pedro 0, Shell Oil 2.

CASEY BASEBALLERS LOSE GAME TO LANKERSHIM

The Glendale Knights of Columbus baseball team fared rather badly against the Lankershim crew at the latter's grounds yesterday, losing by an 18 to 5 score in a San Fernando Valley league game.

Lankershim got off to a six run lead in the first frame and put over two more in the third. The Casey's made one in their half of that frame and in the sixth Lankershim put over five more. Again in the seventh Lankershim scored, bringing in two runs, and then brought over three more in the eighth. The Glendale Knights got four in the seventh. The score:

BAKERSFIELD TAKES
STATE PREP HONORS
FROM LICK ELEVEN

[By Associated Press] EWING FIELD, SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23—For the fourth time successively and for the fifth time in eight years the Kern County Union high school of Bakersfield won the football championship of the California Inter-scholastic Federation when it defeated Lick-Wilmerding, high school of San Francisco, 27 to 13, here this afternoon.

The crowd of more than 15,000 was kept breathless by a game that brought about all the spectacular features that a gridiron can offer. Brilliant open plays succeeded on both sides.

Lawrence, Lick's lanky left halfback, was the brightest star for the challenging team. He made Lick's first touchdown by running back a punt 87 yards, eluding the entire Bakersfield eleven. But no less scintillating was the 75-yard run for a touchdown which Cummings, the Bakersfield right half, made after tearing through the line from scrimmage just as the timekeeper's gun ended the game.

Unstoppable Bakersfield played like a champion. On straight football Lick hardly had a look-in offensively, and the home team's excellent defense was not good enough to stop the powerful Drillers from down-state. Yet, Lick, unable to penetrate the Bakersfield line, and unable to stop its plunging backs, fought so fiercely that the first half ended with Lick in the lead, 13 to 7. But in the last two periods, the strength of the titelholders told, and they made three more touchdowns.

Cummings, the other Bakersfield half, who weighs 130, formed the receiving end of a forward pass combination with Caldwell that split run to Lick.

Most of Lick's attempts at the aerial game were disastrous, but the few that did succeed brought big gains, one for the touchdown

HUSKY ELEVEN MAY BE WITHOUT STAR
FULLBACK

Washington may be without its big sophomore fullback, Elmer Tesreau, in the game with the Navy on New Year's day at Pasadena. The great fullback is under the care of a physician with a boil on his knee, the infection from which has caused him two sleepless nights.

Should the Washington team lose Tesreau it will be the hardest blow it could possibly be hit. Tesreau's trouble makes it seem doubly certain that Fred Abel will be in the game. If so, Abel will play at fullback, Ziel at right half, Wilson at left half, and Sherman at quarterback.

That temporarily put Lick ahead. Bakersfield dazzled Lick with the forward pass game early in the first period and resorted to it thereafter whenever straight bucking didn't suffice.

SCORE BY QUARTERS: Bakersfield: 7 0 6 14-27. Lick-Wilmerding: 0 13 0 0-13. Bakersfield scoring: Touchdowns—Caldwell 2; Cummings 2. Points from try after touchdowns—Caldwell 2. Lick-Wilmerding scoring: Touchdowns—Lawrence, Tilden. Points from try after touchdowns—Chisholm. Referee—Harry Braddock, Pennsylvania. Umpire—Boles Rosenthal, Minnesota. Field Judge—Dudley R. Clark, Oregon. Head Linesman—James Cave, Washington State.

Joe Cantillon contemplates establishing a school for budding pitchers in Minneapolis. His instructors would be veteran pitchers and catchers and they would demonstrate their methods for acceptable candidates. He would permit managers to send pitchers for development.

PHILIPPINE ISLES PROVE RICH FIELD TO ARCHAEOLOGIST

MANILA, Dec. 24.—Results of the first year of systematic archaeological research in the Philippine Islands now are being classified by Carl E. Guthe, a scientist sent out by the University of Michigan, at his island home in Cebu. The discoveries, which include Chinese as well as native Philippine relics, date back in some instances as much as 2300 years, scientists believe, and are expected to clarify many points in insular history which have been beclouded by doubt.

During the last 12 months the scientist explored caves and ancient burial places on three islands—Bohol, Samar and Cebu. Beside various native skulls and artifacts, he found in them specimens of Chinese arts and handicrafts of the Tang, Sung and Ming dynasties, which, scientists believe, corroborate previous suppositions that for many hundreds of years the Philippines were visited by a succession of Chinese traders whose influence affected the social customs and probably the religion of the natives.

The period of this influence is estimated at 1000 years, the Tang dynasty having flourished in the seventh century and the Ming continuing until the middle of the seventeenth. There are evidences that Chinese civilization during this time, several times flowed over the native culture and was swept back, only to advance again. Three types of skulls were found by Doctor Guthe. The oldest and most primitive was associated with stone implements only. Some of these implements were polished axes and adzes shaped apparently for working down timbers for boats or ships. Skulls of a second type were found in association with specimens of a characteristic unglazed native pottery. Those of the third type, apparently much later, were found in burial places enriched with glazed Chinese pottery, bronze and iron implements and jewelry of various designs, mostly of Indian or Javanese origin. These skulls were artificially deformed, with flattened foreheads.

Dredging in the Pasig river bed to a depth of about 20 feet at a point below the town of Pasig yielded several jade axes and adzes, skillfully fashioned and still with a good cutting edge although more than twenty centuries had passed since the men who wielded them turned to dust. Two of the axes, now in the possession of Dr. H. Otley Beyer, of the University of the Philippines, are believed to date from the fourth century before Christ.

Philippine anthropologists and archaeologists are awaiting with interest the results of Doctor Guthe's classification and further exploratory activities.

[By Associated Press]
HARRISBURG, Dec. 24.—In an effort to reduce the number of accidents to pedestrians on the highway of this state, the Pennsylvania Motor Federation is urging publicity for the recommendation of the American Automobile association that persons on the highway, especially at night, face the traffic by walking on the left hand side of the road. The national association has reached the conclusion after a study of the situation, that most of the cases when automobiles strike pedestrians at night are due to the driver being partially blinded by the headlights of approaching cars and, swinging to the right, falling to see pedestrians. It is contended that if persons, walking on the roads would face the traffic they would be better able to avoid being struck and also would be seen much sooner by the drivers of cars approaching in the opposite direction.

SANTA CLAUS TO VISIT POOR FAMILIES IN BURBANK

Chief Long of the Burbank police department Friday morning turned over to Mrs. Clark, chairman of the philanthropic section of the Women's club, a little sack of money totaling over $320, the proceeds derived from the charity ball given by the police last Wednesday night, and which is being spent for groceries and clothing for the poor in Burbank. Mrs. Clark and other women of the section bought potatoes, onions, apples, cookies, candy by the whole sale and sorted them all out, making over 60 boxes of assorted groceries for the poor families, with a meat and bread order in each one. They have helped a girl through school, loaned one needy family $20, clothed a little baby from head to foot with three changes of clothing, have helped poor but proud families with secret gifts of money and groceries and there are many yet to be distributed. Mrs. Clark stated that one had no idea how many poor and needy families there were this year in Burbank that were unknown, and many, many thanks are due to the police department and especially mention to Chief Long, for this wonderful work it is possible to do through their kindness, as many a family is being made happy by these donations.

SWISS TRACKS NOW READY FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

[By Associated Press]
CHAMONIX, France, Dec. 24.—The skating rink, ski-jumps, curling rink and bobsleigh chutes for the winter Olympic sports opening January 25, are now practically finished. The skating rink measures 227 metres in length and 90 metres wide. The track for speed skating possesses all the latest improvements in the way of drainage, water squirting apparatus, electric lights, dressing rooms, etc. It measures 400 metres around and is ten metres wide, excepting at the turns where the width is increased to 25 metres.

In the interior of the track a rink of 70 metres by 30 is reserved for hockey. Figure skating and curling rinks are installed in each corner of the area outside the hockey rink proper. There is accommodation for 10,000 spectators. The ski-jumps are situated on the very slopes of Mont Blanc, near the little village of Mont. The taking off track is 79 metres long to the actual jumping off place and the landing track measures 178 metres in which the jumper can check the momentum reached in the jump. It is the opinion of experts that all records for ski-jumping will be broken here. A little truck on the narrow gauge railroad used in the building of the jumps, escaping from the time several times, flowered cleared 65 metres before landing.

The bobsleigh track is 1,760 metres long, nearly a mile and a furlong. The downward grade averages 9 metres to the hundred, but in certain spots it reached 14 per cent. Some of the turns, numbering 18 in all, are nearly vertical, in two cases reaching an angle of seventy to eighty degrees. The United States, England, Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Spain, Finland, France, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Norway, Rumania, Sweden, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia, have sent in their official entries to the winter games.

HARNESS WATERS OF RIVER JORDAN

Seemingly in striking accordance with the prophecies of the Old Testament, modern science has invaded the Holy Land, harnessing for electric power the sacred River Jordan where Christ was baptized. Engineers are impounding for irrigation of the arid valleys the waters of the Sea of Galilee where the Apostle Peter spread his nets, draining the fever-breeding swamps for agriculture, and spreading a web of transmission lines over Palestine from Dan to Beersheba and from the Mediterranean to the eastern edge of the Jordan valley.

The effect of the completion of the project is bound to be far reaching and revolutionary, says Popular Science Monthly in its January issue. Civilization has not advanced appreciably in Palestine since Biblical days. Ox-drawn wooden plows and primitive water wheels for irrigation are the machinery of agriculture. The inhabitants make their journeys on donkeys exactly as Joseph, Mary and the infant Christ accomplished the flight into Egypt. Water for domestic purposes still is carried in hide sacks from streams and old wells. Off lamps illuminate the homes. Long ago the forests disappeared from the country, and the rich soil was washed away from the high ground.

Within a year or two, however, all this will be changed. Electric railways will connect the principal cities. Electricity will be supplied for domestic purposes so cheaply that it will come into wider use than now is the case in America and Europe. Every home in Palestine, it is expected, will use electricity for heating and cooking as well as for illuminating.

Easy Lessons in AUCTION BRIDGE New Series

COPYRIGHT 1923 BY HOYLE, JR.

ARTICLE No. 9

One prominent writer is authority for the statement that more than 635 billion hands can be dealt at auction, no two alike. If this is true, it is easy to see that no one can ever be a perfect player and that all the good players can hope for is to beat the average. The practically infinite number of hands that can be dealt make it impossible to lay down any system that will cover every hand. The unexpected turns up too often and the apparently unbeatable hand is often beaten.

One result of the great number of hands that may be dealt is some problems of bidding that have even the experts guessing. When the experts disagree, it is easy to see that the average player is bound to make mistakes at times. For that reason, be easy on your partner and do not take the game too seriously. Play the game for amusement for there is very little amusement, either for you or for your fellow players, if you let the game "get" you. Do not become one of those players who discusses every hand and informs the other players how they should have played it. An intelligent discussion or analysis of a difficult hand is always interesting and instructive but the "post mortem" fenn never stops at that. No one values gratuitous advice or criticism and this is particularly true at the auction table.

Another thing to avoid is grumbling, either over bad cards or bad play. The world loves a winner and has little sympathy for a loser, at the auction table as in everything else. A certain player who understands the psychology of this, if asked how he came out at any particular session, always says: "I won a little." That is the idea. Always tell of your winnings but keep your losses to yourself.

The following hands are interesting and representative of the usual problems of bidding. Lay out the hands and decide upon the proper bid in each instance. In the next article, the proper bids will be given and you will have a chance to compare your bidding with the expert's.

In all of the following hands, Z is the dealer, Y his partner and A-B his opponents.
